

The ABC's of Fresh Flower Care:

A: DO NOT Place your fresh flowers in a freezer DO NOT let your flowers freeze.

B: DO make sure your bouquet is stored in refrigerator directly after the wedding.

Bouquet Holders~ If the flowers are in a bouquet holder make sure the green floral foam is moistened with water prior to putting in refrigerator.

Hand Tied~ If the arrangement is hand tied, clip the stems at the lower base and place back into a vase of water as soon as possible. Some florists will use green oasis in the middle of the stems with stems sticking out of the bottom. Moisten the green oasis with water.

C: Store: in a refrigerator until the fresh flowers are shipped. Place bouquet in plastic bag, blow air into bag before refrigerating. However, DO NOT Allow your flowers to share space (store) with fruits or vegetables.

 You Can Also **

Use a insulated Plastic Cooler to temporarily store and transport fresh flowers.

If storing in a cooler, make sure there is ice or preferably, ice packs on the bottom of the cooler. Cover the ice with a layer of bubble wrap (important) so flowers do not get wet or freeze. If using ice check ice daily until flowers are delivered emptying all water that has accumulated and replace as needed; or replace new ice packs daily (the better option) as they can be refrozen. When ready to transport, tape the ice packs to bottom of cooler with duct tape
